

Contents

6	Prologue: Three Directors
8	Walter Gropius and His Path to the Bauhaus
12	The Roots of Artistic Radicalism
14	The Bauhaus Manifesto, 1919
16	The Preliminary Course
18	Apprenticeship and Diploma
19	The Workshops
22	Form Training—Craft Training
24	Masters and Young Masters
28	Women, Men, Couples
30	From Expressionism to Constructivism
34	Theories of Design
40	Ideas for Housing Construction
42	The Director's Office in Weimar, 1924
44	The Bauhaus Building in Dessau, 1925–1926
48	The Masters' Houses in Dessau, 1925–1926
52	The Housing Estate in Dessau-Törten, 1926–1928
54	New Residential Architecture
58	Reform and Avant-Garde under Gropius
62	Hannes Meyer, Director, 1928–1930
66	Changes among the Masters
68	Scientific Design
72	The Goal of Standard Products
74	The Trade Union School in Bernau, 1928–1930
78	Providing for the People, not Catering to Luxury
80	Meyer's Dismissal, 1930
82	Mies van der Rohe, Director, 1930–1933
84	Political Tensions
86	New Structures
88	Architectural Training under Mies van der Rohe
90	Reform and Avant-Garde under Mies van der Rohe
92	The Nazi Campaign against the Bauhaus
94	Epilogue: The Bauhaus Legend
96	Bibliography/Credits/Acknowledgement